“ There is a train at the station with a seat reserved just for you.

As I've heard it sets you free from trials and tribulations the pain and stress don't exist were your going only happiness. Many family and you friends you know who took an earlier train are waiting for you to you and believe mom will be one of those friends waiting for you to greet you, welcome you and reassure you that nothing has really changed. It's now a journey you can join her in. There'll be many destinations.

Each one a brief reminder of the great times you both had together. You'll both take the time to catch up on the past to build a new beginnings ones that will always last.
At the station you will see that life is just a journey enriched by those you meet.

Family not by birth but by good fortune, I'm lucky to have had you in my life. I don't think of you as gone your journey's just begun, life holds so many facets this earth is only one.

I think of you as resting from the sorrows and the tears in a place of warmth and comfort where there are no days and years.

We'll always remember that special smile,
that caring heart,

that warm embrace,

you always gave us. I am honored to have known you.
